[1] Business groups around the state are starting the New York Property Tax Cap Coalition, which they say is a “broad-based group of individuals, businesses, taxpayer groups and other associations who support the proposed property tax cap.”

The group includes chambers of commerce and other business groups from Long Island and upstate, including Unshackle Upstate, Rochester Business Alliance and the Rockland Business Association.

The [2] website includes a FAQ, studies about a property-tax cap and how to join the group.
